

At St. Paul & St. Timothy's Catholic Infant School, Geography lessons inspire in pupils a curiosity and fascination about the world and its people that we hope will remain with each child for the rest of their lives.

We believe that all children should have a 'sense of place' and aim to develop the children's interest in both their own surroundings in addition to the variety of human and physical conditions in the wider world.

We encourage children to learn by experience and we value fieldwork (e.g. welly walks, orienteering) as an integral part of the Geography curriculum.

Wherever possible, links are made between Geography and History topics in order to promote breadth and depth across the curriculum. Projects may have overarching themes (e.g. In Our Liverpool Home, Chocolate) whereby the learning objectives of each lesson draw from geographic and historic knowledge and skills included in the National Curriculum.
